

ANOTHER WEEK OF SUSPENSE STRETCHES AHEAD FOR THREE CONDEMNED TO DIE IN CHAIR

Eighth Last-Minute Reprieve is Granted in Feasterville Inn Murder Case — Darcy's Attorneys Claim Client Did Not Get Fair Trial at Bucks County Court.

By International News Service
BELLEFONTE, Apr. 6—Another week of agonizing suspense stretched ahead today for three condemned Philadelphia slayers following their eighth last-minute reprieve from Pennsylvania's electric chair.

David Darcy, 26; Harry Zietz, 21; and Harold Foster, 26, resumed their brooding wait in the execution building at Rockview penitentiary, where they were to have died at 12:30 a. m. this morning.

All three were convicted for the fatal shooting of William Kelly, 38, as they fled from a holdup of the Feasterville Inn in Bucks County on Dec. 22, 1947.

Desperate appeals of Darcy's attorneys who claim he did not receive a fair trial had cancelled previous electrocution dates set for last Monday and again on Tuesday.

The week's third reprieve came yesterday when Darcy's execution was stayed by the U. S. District Court at Scranton, which recessed a habeas corpus hearing until 10 a. m. next Tuesday.

Gov. John S. Fine at Harrisburg later postponed the deaths of Zietz and Foster, explaining: "I am of the opinion that they should not be executed while the Darcy case is pending."

Fine set execution of the trio for the week beginning next Monday, but specified that they should not go to the chair before next Thursday morning.

Before being taken back to Bellefonte from Scranton last night, Darcy told newsmen: "I'm ready to die." He termed his experiences of the past week "terrifying," and added:

"A fellow can't take any more stuff like hearing them testing the chair to kill you."

Yesterday's hearing was held before Federal Judge John W. Murphy.

Immediately afterward, Charles J. Margiotti, Darcy's chief counsel, said he would file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus with the State Supreme Court.

If the plea is refused, as were several others by the appellate tribunal, the case will be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court, Margiotti declared.

It was Judge Murphy who suggested that the defense apply for a writ to the State Supreme Court. The suggestion came after Murphy and Judge Albert L. Watson had listened to arguments for two hours.

Margiotti contended that Darcy's trial in Doylestown was unfair under the due process clause of the 14th amendment of the U. S. Constitution.

"The defendant," he said, "received no defense at all—no trial at all."

"Darcy had as fair a trial as any defendant ever brought before the bar of justice," retorted Deputy Attorney General Randolph Ryder, who opposed the move to obtain a writ.

Willard D. Curtin, Bucks County District Attorney, sat at the Commonwealth's table and was questioned about different dates in the Darcy case.

At the hearing, Margiotti implied

THE WAR

TOKYO — United Nations troops pressed a 35-mile-wide assault above parallel 38 in west and central Korea today against stiffening resistance as U. S. marine flyers blasted a Red supply train rushing toward the exploding front. Units of eight Allied divisions inched forward in violent fighting Friday after thrusting spearheads one to eight miles inside North Korea toward the bristling core of a 600,000-man Red Army.

TEL AVIV — Syrian troop reinforcements were reported massing on the desolate frontier between Syria and Israel today and dispatches told of new explosions indicating fresh hostilities. Tension mounted throughout the Middle East following an Israeli air force attack on fortified Syrian positions at El Hammah near the border in reprisal for the killing of seven Israeli policemen and the wounding of three others by Syrian border guards. The new and potentially dangerous situation

SPEAKER SAYS MANY SUPPLIERS TO LOCATE IN AREA

Dwight L. Merrell, U. S. Steel Co., Addresses Purchasing Agents

STEEL AFFECTS MANY
Plan To Recruit Employees From The Local Area

TRENTON, N. J., Apr. 6—"Some of our suppliers will want to find locations near here," said Dwight L. Merrell, manager of sales, Philadelphia Sales Office, United States Steel Company, in an address here last evening. Merrell was speaking before the Purchasing Agents' Association of Trenton, N. J.

Merrell in part spoke as follows: "Some of our suppliers will want to find locations near here. We don't know what number, exactly, but there will be a good many of them. It's true that a lot of people depend on us for steel. It's also true that we depend on a great many others to provide us with the mill and one thing we need to run our steel mills—everything from a light bulb to a rolling mill. Last year United States Steel purchased goods and services from 54,000 suppliers throughout the country. And we will make what purchases we can here in this area."

Seek Stones 16 and 17, Old King's Highway

A group of members of the Bristol Rotary Club is going to endeavor to re-set the old King's Highway Milestones in Bucks and Philadelphia counties.

These stones are gradually disappearing and the Rotarians would like to re-set in concrete those which remain or those which may be found, and re-paint the initials and numbers.

Stones No. 16 and 17 have not, as yet, been located, and it is presumed that they are buried and concealed from view.

Stones No. 16 should be in the vicinity of the P. R. R. station at Croydon, while No. 17 should be above Maynes Lane bridge on the south side of the highway. If anyone has any information or old pictures showing these stones they are requested to contact Joseph H. Elbersson, c/o The Bristol Courier, who will relay the information to the Rotarians who are interested.

School Architect Exhibits Plans for School Building To Be Erected on Site — Eight-Room Structure of Progressive Design To Be Erected — Other Business Transacted

A resolution was adopted accepting a tract of land as a gift from the Rohm & Haas Company to the school district at the Bristol Township School Board meeting held last evening. Plans for the proposed new school for Croydon was discussed at a meeting held in the junior high school on Rodgers Road. John Allman, president of the board, presided.

Joseph Wigmore, school architect, presented plans of the proposed Croydon school and discussed the plans with the board members. The school will have eight class rooms with a multi-purpose room. Wigmore told the members "the school will be the most progressive designed school building in the State of Pennsylvania."

The resolution accepting the ground given by the Rohm & Haas Company for the Croydon School reads as follows:

RESOLUTION
Resolution of the Bristol Township School Board, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, passed at the regular meeting of the Board held April 5th, 1951, in the Junior High School on Rodgers Road, in said Township, as follows:

WHEREAS, Rohm & Haas Company, a Corporation created under the laws of the State of Delaware, with a place of business in Bristol Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, is the owner of land in Bristol Township. And

WHEREAS, the said Rohm & Haas Company have offered to donate for school purposes to the said Bristol Township School District a tract of land consisting of 22.736 acres, located on the Northerly side of China Hall Road, in said Township. And

WHEREAS, it is the understanding of the said School Board that this land is donated specifically for school purposes and if the said purpose is abandoned then the land should be restored to the Grantors, Rohm & Haas Company. And

WHEREAS, the land has been divided into two tracts, one tract of 14.627 acres to be conveyed to the Bristol Township School District in which deed there is a reversion clause to the effect that if this tract ceases to be used for school or recreational purposes it will automatically revert to the Grantors, Rohm & Haas Company, and the Board will execute the necessary conveyance. And

WHEREAS, the other tract comprising 8.109 acres of land is conveyed to the said School District by a special warranty deed in which there is no reversion clause. NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, that if the said Bristol Township School Board abandon the project of constructing a school building on the said tract of 8.109 acres, said tract be reconveyed to Rohm & Haas Company and this resolution be

PROPERTY PRICES HIGHER

Prices of improved real estate will continue to rise during the next five years, as a result of increasing demand for residential, business and agricultural property, according to Walter R. Kuehne of Chicago, president of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.

Real estate prices have been influenced less by war than by increasing building costs and the decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar. The threat of war is, of course, having some effect on values, because many people feel that in the event of another conflict real property will be the most secure investment.

At the same time Dr. Morris M. Blair, professor of economics at Tulsa University, speaking from the same platform, declares the government is responsible for inflation in values of farm lands. He explains that through subsidies and protected prices agriculture has become a monopoly which is paying high returns and is luring many speculators.

The American people have become land hungry, in the face of conditions which are economically unstable. All other theories aside, that seems to be the real explanation of booming real estate prices.

NO BIG DUST BOWLS

There will never be another major dust bowl in this country, Dr. H. H. Bennett, leading soil conservator whose ideas helped to stop wind erosion in the Southwest more than a decade ago, predicts. There will be occasional dusts across the high plains, but nothing resembling the black blizzards which were so terrifying in the mid-thirties.

Farmers once more are tearing up grassland to plant more wheat and other crops. But Dr. Bennett is confident the people in the old dust bowl aren't breaking out too much land.

There may be some trouble in the fringes where new land not suitable for cropping is being planted to wheat and cotton. But if the situation threatens to become serious, farmers — using methods that have proved their effectiveness — can correct it in a hurry.

A change in the weather from dry to wet in the late thirties helped to conquer wind erosion, but Dr. Bennett gives most of the credit to farmers who applied new viewpoints and new methods.

The soil conservation Service, which Dr. Bennett heads, supplies technical assistance and supplies to farmers. This program now covers nearly 300,000,000 acres on the Great Plains.

Youth Week Committee Continues With Its Plans

The reports of the ward leaders of the Bristol Youth Week were encouraging last night at a meeting held in the Elks' Home, Radcliffe street. In the absence of Chairman Thomas R. Jones, the meeting was conducted by Maxwell J. Gordon. Youth Week will be held from May 21st to May 26th, inclusive.

Secretary Horace Schmidt handed the leaders their copies of the rules and regulations for the various events. Henry Morgan reported that he is prepared to start the softball tournament for the boys and girls.

At the suggestion of Miss Marion Petro, it was decided to give a prize for the best baton twirler in the line of march during the parade on Saturday, May 26th.

A vote to include both roller-skating and a marble tournament in the plans for the week passed unanimously. The two events were not included in the early plans.

It was decided to limit the track and field meet contestants to three events and the relay.

Maxwell Gordon will contact the art teacher of the Bristol public schools in an effort to stir up interest in the poster contest. Entries must be in by May 6th. It was also decided to invite a member of the borough school board to the meeting next Thursday night.

Thomas Juno suggested that a grand prize be awarded to the ward having the highest number of points in the Youth Week events and also that individual trophies be given to the leaders of the girls and boys of the championship ward. This matter was left to the steering committee.

Anthony DiAngelo informed the committee that he has the support of the Fifth Ward Sporting Club and that he will call a meeting shortly in the club-house to discuss the first event of Youth Week, the poster contest.

Britain In A Strait-Jacket

port says that "austerity" will continue and will get worse instead of better.

Still more significant, the economic survey indicates no turning point, no objective to which the government could fight its way and then ease the growing restrictions.

What faces the British people is rising prices, increasing scarcities, and frozen wages. Belts will have to be kept on tightening till they break.

The Socialist government does not, of course, say that this bleak future is due to the incapacity of the Socialist administrators to meet and overcome the economic problems of the times. Neither do they concede that Socialism is a snare and a delusion, proven unworkable every time it has been attempted. On the contrary, they saddle all the blame for their shortcomings on a convenient scapegoat—Stalin.

But the big question is whether this is going to fool the British people. The truth is right under their noses. If they don't see the facts, it is because they don't want to—not because they are not plain enough.

The catch to Socialism is that it promises to do so much for the people that they no longer have any incentive to fend for themselves. Because the government tries to do so much, and because the party in power wants to keep in power, the public staff grows and grows and grows. Bureaucracy blooms in fullest, most expensive flower. The time comes, as it has in Britain, when the cost of running the government itself is so great that there isn't enough left over for the people to live on.

When that happens, the government has a three-way choice. It can try to get new revenues from outside the country—either by conquest, as Hitler and Mussolini did, or by "loans," as the British succeeded in doing for a time. Or the government could whittle down its cost of doing business—in plain language, fire a few thousand of the expensive political help it has hired. Or it can do what the British government is now trying—an undertake to make its citizens submissively starve themselves and do without.

Don't you be fooled, even if the British are. What the British people are being asked to retrench for is not anything mysterious—it is for the simple purpose of saving enough money so that the Socialist government won't have to fire any of its favorites from their cushy government jobs.

Think it over. Does all that have a familiar sound?

Rumors have circulated about the way we are going to obtain workmen for the mill. One rumor claimed we planned to bring a boatload of displaced persons from Europe. Others have been equally sensational and incorrect. The fact is, aside from the experienced men we need to get the mill into production, we plan to recruit our employees right here.

"Producing steel is a complicated, complex business which requires the expenditure of large sums of money, and our industry has kept pace with the rest of American industry in the development of automatic equipment. The trend has been to move the steelworker farther and farther away from the hot metal. The days when hot steel was handled at close range are fast becoming a part of our industrial history, as all of you will have an opportunity to see when the Fairless Works is completed.

"Mechanical, electrical, and hydraulic equipment has taken the sweat and hazard out of almost every job. Even air conditioning has been introduced in many areas where at one time heat was a real problem. Don't think, however, that the introduction of modern equipment has killed the romance of steel or made its manufacture a 'push-button industry.' It hasn't. There are still jobs which are performed primarily by the exertion of human muscle.

"But today's emphasis is on the development of newer and better steels to satisfy the constantly changing requirements of our customers, and the new equipment has brought a corresponding change in the steelworker. To handle the improved facilities, he has to be better trained and more skilled than his predecessors. And, as a result he turns out better steel. It takes competent men to handle the sensitive equipment which produces much of our steel today.

"I am sure you will discover, after the new mill has been in operation for a while, that there is a tremendous 'esprit de corps' among most steelworkers. Almost every man is dependent on the timing and skill of another man, and it doesn't take long for this mutual dependence to create a very strong sense of teamwork.

"We in U. S. Steel look upon our community relations as a very necessary and important part of our job. Our plant supervisors and employees actively engage in the activities of their communities, and we hope and expect that the same will be true here. There are numerous instances where our men and women are serving on school and hospital boards, as councilmen, or leaders in Girl or Boy Scout groups. Frequently, they offer their knowledge of group organization to such necessary activities as the Community Chest, the Red Cross, and the Salvation Army campaigns.

"Another significant indication of how the men and women of United States Steel regard their responsibilities toward their communities and toward the nation has been their purchase of United States Savings Bonds through the payroll savings plan. During the years between 1942 and 1945, several of our plants had 100 per cent participation. The entire company average went as high as 95 per cent. Last month at Pittsburgh's annual Chamber of Commerce dinner, the Treasury Department presented to our employees one of three citations awarded to industry for outstanding contributions to our national security through the purchase of bonds. The award was made on the basis of our employees' participation in the payroll savings plan during 1950."

SHEDS DIRT... STAYS WHITE

FOR YEARS!

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT

cleans itself!

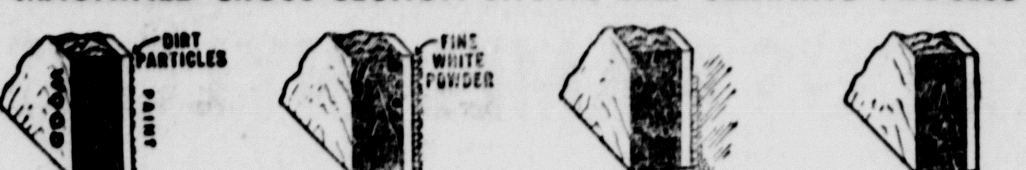

For lasting whiteness and matchless brightness make certain your painter uses Du Pont House Paint. A unique blend of pigments and oils, it actually sheds dust and grime during every heavy rain! It cleans itself! Normally, this "Self-cleaning" process starts within a few months. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay this process.

So beautify your home with the paint that's made right to stay bright. Specify "Self-cleaning" Du Pont House Paint in Outside White or popular tints. Ask your Du Pont dealer or painter to tell you how the "Self-cleaning" process works in your area. And if the surface is bare wood or badly weathered paint, assure maximum adhesion of the finish coat by starting with a coat of Du Pont House Paint Primer.

Save the Surface and You Save All!

MAGNIFIED CROSS-SECTION SHOWS SELF-CLEANING PROCESS

1. All paints collect dust and dirt during the first few months.
2. With Du Pont House Paint, a fine white powder forms after a few months on surfaces exposed to sun and weather.
3. Rain wash off this powder—and with it, much of the accumulated dirt and grime.
4. Self-cleaning leaves surface clean and white... keeps it sparkling white for years. This cleaning process is gradual and does not adversely affect the long life of the paint.

God's Gift is Flowers

The traditional way to say "with sympathy" is to say it with flowers. Through the centuries men have turned to this blessed way of expressing their tenderest thoughts to friends and dear ones.

Those left behind will never forget the beautiful memory picture your thoughtfulness helps to create. And in years to come, you gain rich satisfaction in having contributed to the silent sermon on everlasting life that flowers add to this sacred occasion.

Exhibit Scale Model of Hospital at PTA Meeting

A scale model of the proposed Lower Bucks County Hospital was exhibited last evening for the first time, when it was shown at a meeting of the Bristol PTA held in the Bristol high school building.

The base of the model measured about 32 inches square and the model gave a very general idea of the hospital building, which previously had only been shown in drawings.

Speakers explained the hospital project, how it originated, what is planned and the need for such an institution in the area. The speakers included William McClure, James E. Harris, and Warren Jennings.

Paul D. Brown, president, presided at a brief business session. The secretary of the PTA, Mrs. Alfred E. Lewis, read the minutes, and Mrs. Joseph Eiden presented the treasurers' report. Mrs. Samuel Gratz told of the Spring Assembly of the Bucks County PTA which is to be held in the Bristol high school auditorium, April 28th.

Mrs. Harry Neher gave the report of the nominating committee. There were two films shown by Lester P. Michael of the high school faculty.

that Darcy had been improperly represented at his trial, particularly because he had not been placed on the witness stand to defend himself.

Although he voiced vigorous opposition to any further delay in the case, Ryder told the court:

"I have contacted the Attorney General of Pennsylvania and he advised me to inform this court the Commonwealth will continue to respect the stay of execution so long as proceedings continue."

Darcy, whose shaved head bore mute witness to his close escape from execution, appeared in court, but was later sent back to a cell in the U. S. Marshal's office when it was decided his presence was not necessary.

Through the bars of the cell, he told a reporter that he "regretted the way I wasted my life."

His father, Joseph, was in the Federal Courthouse, too. Wracked by his ordeal, his voice was weary as he told questioners:

"We can't understand how David got into this. He never was in trouble before. I guess it was what you'd call a case of bad companions. This has been a terrible ordeal. Nobody knew what was happening. It's broken his mother's heart. She is home waiting for us. I hope I can give her some kind of hope."

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP SCHOOL BOARD

Walter D. Miller, Regional Superintendent, reported the fence at the school in Bristol Terrace is in need of repair. The board decided to have the fence removed.

Mrs. A. Erna McKevitt was authorized to attend the music convention to be held in Atlantic City.

The board voted on record as being in favor of Bill H-356 which permits school boards to form their own authority and instructed the secretary, Clarence Young, to take the proper action.

James S. Ritter and Henry C. Morgan applied for work on the school board's summer projects. The board voted them for such work.

The problem of the possibility of trailer camps in the Township was discussed. The members all agreed that if camps are formed it would put a burden on the schools in the township and that such camps should not be allowed. The board decided to inform the Township Commissioners that the board feels that laws should be enacted by them prohibiting trailer camps in the Township and instructed the secretary, Mr. Young, to write to the Township Commissioners recommending that they enact such laws needed to take care of the trailer problem.

A temporary armistice is in effect between the two nations. At Lake Success fears were felt the un-arranged armistice gravely endangers the Near East situation. Israel has protested to the Security Council, alleging Syria violated the truce agreement. Syria made no protest to the council, but its chief delegate at Lake Success received instructions to cancel his scheduled trip home and await developments.

Delhaas Board Holds Session

Home Makers of America were meeting in Pittsburgh this year and the industrial arts conference will be held in New York. May 4th and 5th, the board authorized teachers to attend the meetings.

The 1951-52 school calendar and spring baseball schedule was presented by Mr. Miller. The board approved the calendar and baseball schedule.

The bill before the House in Harrisburg now permitting a school board to form its own authority was discussed. The board went on record as being in favor of this bill, H-356, and instructed the secretary, Clarence Young, to inform the legislature of the action.

President Roberts appointed the following committee to prepare the budget for the 1951-52 school year: William Clifton, John Allman, and William Parr.

Sorosis Has Election; Broker is The Speaker

LANGHORNE, Apr. 6—With a two-year term of office stipulated, officers were elected for Langhorne Sorosis yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Pickering, 3d, was chosen president, she succeeding Mrs. Horace P. Townsend. Others named to office: 1st vice-president, Mrs. John Heiler; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Franklin Pennell; recording secretary, Mrs. Alan Benedict; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaretta Mather; treasurer, Mrs. George VanKoden; directors, Mrs. N. Herbert Caley, Mrs. Horace P. Townsend, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Edward Pierson.

The members voted to donate $10 to the Red Cross and $5 to the Cancer Research Fund.

Mrs. Townsend was presiding officer; and voted into membership was Mrs. John L. Davis.

Albert J. Berkow, representative of a brokerage firm, was the speaker for the afternoon. At the outset, Mr. Berkow stressed "the importance of investing in 'things' rather than placing money in the bank." He added that stocks and bonds represent actual "things," such as businesses and factories. The three basic principles of investing funds were listed by Mr. Berkow as follows: 1. select stocks and bonds carefully; 2. make sure of diversification ("don't put all eggs in one basket"); 3. management of stocks. Under the latter heading he mentioned three ways in which management can be carried out—1. self management, conferring with personal broker; 2. investment counsel on fee basis (usually for those having large amounts to invest); 3. medium of mutual funds (for those with small sums to invest). It was mentioned that the latter plan operates under a specific law, "and is the safest method for those with small amounts to invest, and for older folks who have no chance to work again and recoup their losses."

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Big meeting... the second, big quarterly meeting this year of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, April 10, at 8 P. M. It will be held at the Odd Fellows Hall (second floor), Radcliffe & Walnut Streets. This is a new meeting place for the Association, and it is planned to meet there for all quarterly meetings. A prominent speaker, G. A. Elias, engineer with the State Sanitary Water Board, will headline the evening's program, his topic centering around the clean-up phase of the lower Delaware River. Elias will also show a film, "Waters of the Commonwealth." In addition, there will be refreshments and prizes. All members should attend and all interested non-members have a cordial invitation to be present.

Fish stocked... the Pennsylvania Fish Commission has placed 4100 fish in Silver Lake during the last two weeks. Included were 1500 sunfish, 2500 catfish and 100 suckers. All were in good condition when they arrived from the Commission's Torresdale Hatchery.

Dog training... the season in which dogs may be trained on wild birds or animals in Pennsylvania closed March 31. Such training will not again be permitted until August 20 of this year.

However, the Commission shall permit fox hunting with dogs throughout the entire year, except a 60-day period designated by the Game Commission in any county that produces a petition signed by 250 or more residents of such county who held hunting licenses last year or who are farmers or sheep raisers.

It is generally agreed that destruction to wild creatures by dogs that are under the eye of careful handlers is far less than by dogs running at large. Pheasant and quail hens sitting tight on their nests, the eggs of these birds, and the young of rabbits and other animals are often destroyed by roaming dogs in spring and early summer. Deer weakened by a long winter on short rations, or their fawns, fall easy prey to marauding dogs.

Considering all the enemies of game—natural and mechanical—wildlife students marvel each year at Nature's ability to provide a new crop of game. Certainly, wildlife needs protection during the nesting and hatching period.

For humane reasons, and in the interest of future hunting, dog owners should be especially careful to keep their pets and canine hunting companions strictly under control in spring and early summer.

Two beavers... S. Earl Carpenter, game protector from Doylestown reports that 2 beavers were caught during the February trapping season in the canal at Washington's Crossing. Carpenter calls this historic Delaware River section "still wild."

Very costly... when spring arrives and the housewife's eye takes on that speculative gleam, male members of the family excuse themselves for outdoor chores that have suddenly become urgent. Unfortunately, the men often employ fires as their cleaning tool in eliminating brush piles, dead grass and other trash.

Foresters think of this time of year, not as the period when growing things begin to clothe the countryside in soft green, but as the fire season when a tremendous and unnecessary loss in timber is the rule. Wildfires dread these days before green vegetation lessens the fire hazard. They have observed the terrible suffering and loss of wild creatures and their young and eggs caused by running fires.

Conservationists repeatedly warn of the loss in fertility and the water holding capacity caused by forests and field fires. All things considered, the manifold costs of such conflagrations far outweigh any advantages that such "cleaning" methods may appear to have.

Bluerock target shoot... this Sunday, beginning at 1 P. M., the trap committee of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will hold an open bluerock shoot over the club traps, west of Bath Road at Silver Lake. A 50-yard, 16 yard Lewis (class event) will be the feature of the program, with practice shooting also on the card. All shooters are invited to participate. Shells will be available on the grounds.

TO AWARD TROPHIES AT BANQUET, APRIL 19TH

The annual banquet of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will be held on Thursday night, April 19, in Philadelphia. Robert Hughes is chairman of the banquet committee.

At the affair, trophies will be awarded to the championship Iphibians team, runner-up Prof-team, the leading scorer, foul-shooter, season champion, and the player selected as the "most valuable." The managers have balloted on the latter award but the winner will not be announced until the night of the banquet.
